

HARDING LIKELY TO CALL CONGRESS IN EXTRA SESSION

By J. BART CAMPBELL, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(Repub.)—Harding began to take stock today of the situation in the United States Senate and House of Representatives, as forecast by Tuesday's elections, which will confront the Harding administration four months hence.

In view of the vitally important domestic and foreign problems regarded as certain to be pressing for immediate solution when President-elect Warren G. Harding is inaugurated March 4 it is the consensus of opinion among Republican leaders he probably will call the new, 69th Congress, into special or extra session in March or April of next year.

Control of the House by the Harding administration, because of the large Republican majority obviously will be a much easier task than control of the Senate where, despite a substantial working majority, the calculations of Harding and Republican leaders associated with him must be upset any time by a disposition by certain independent Republicans to "kick over the traces."

WILL PROVE BAROMETER

The attitude assumed by the president-elect toward domestic and foreign questions in his inaugural address, coupled with the kind of men he appoints to his cabinet, probably will prove the barometer by which senatorial storms will break.

Certain elements among the Republican senators may court conflict with the president-elect, but unless the president-elect succeeds in welding them into a harmonious whole, willing to "get along" with various policies laid down by him.

Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, nominally a Republican, is one of recognized non-partisan leanings and independent views, who is regarded as amenable to policies, be they Republican or Democratic, with which he does not agree.

TO PRESERVE HARMONY

A strong effort to preserve Republican harmony in Congress doubtless will be made by the president-elect, but there are half a dozen Republican senators other than Borah, La Follette and Ladd who must be reckoned with in whatever calculations are made as to the effect of the proposed changes in the tariff and other revenue laws, as well as in whatever solution is attempted of the National mortgage problem.

Senators Capper of Kansas, Kenyon of Iowa, Nelson and Kellogg of Minnesota, Johnson of California, McCumber of North Dakota and McNary of Oregon are some Republican senators certain to have views of their own, progressive or otherwise, as to how the Republican doctrine should be applied to the solution of the National mortgage problem and agricultural problems.

On the Democratic side, Senator Reed of Missouri and Senator-elect Watson of Georgia may be depended upon to exercise their own opinions, irrespective of party lines, while there are an number of other Democratic senators who are inclined when the occasion arises to "bolt" the regular Democratic organization just as several Republican senators frequently refuse to be bound by theirs.

Japanese Propose Court Fight on State Land Law

When he returned to Washington, possibly today, to resume conversations in behalf of the state department with Ambassador Shidehara of Japan relative to the Japanese problem in California and the general Japanese immigration question, Ambassador Morris was to have in his possession a full transcript of the action of Professor Yoshi S. Kuno of the University of California. To aid in guiding the American representative in the preliminary work of drafting a Japanese treaty, a request of Federal officials, The TRIBUNE has caused to be taken a full reprint of the Kuno declaration, made first in President Barrows of the University, and forwarded them to the Ambassador.

Advices from Washington today were that the California law would not alter the course of the conversations, but that they would go forward, the California result already having been discounted at the capital.

TREATY DRAFT TO BE READY NEXT MONTH

The purpose to have a treaty draft ready perhaps next month, and it was the hope that the size of the California vote would keep the Japanese question from being regarded as a party issue, the necessity of new conversations with the Japanese after March 4.

While figures on Tuesday's vote were not complete and probably will not be complete for another day, indications today were that the majority for the alien measure would be between 3 and 4 to 1. Approximately 3500 precincts reported early against the measure 523,741, against, 123,000.

When the draft treaty now under conversations is ready it is presented to Secretary of State Coby and then President-elect Harding, as well as to the Japanese foreign office. In this stage it is not in any way binding.

Outside of Washington, the main development in the Japanese situation was the bond issue in San Francisco, where the New World, a Japanese newspaper, announced its intention of beginning legal proceedings to stay the operation of the new land law.

An effort to enjoin the statute will be made on the ground that the Japanese are eligible to citizenship and that the law does not apply to them. The law as written refers to persons "eligible to citizenship" and persons "not eligible to citizenship."

SECOND BATTLE TO BE LEGAL CONVICTION

Says the newspaper in part: "The second battle will be a legal contest. Our company will immediately institute an action at law. We cannot here explain the reasons in detail, but in the first place the very core of this law, the phrases, 'aliens who are eligible to citizenship' and 'aliens who are not eligible to citizenship' are exceptionally vague and the majority of the citizens of the State cannot define it, therefore the law cannot be observed."

This is our first line of argument. Whether Japanese subjects can be naturalized is a question which has never been decided by the Supreme Court of the United States. Therefore, we wish to have the enforcement of this land law upon the Japanese prohibited, if they are eligible to citizenship, well and good; if they are ineligible to citizenship we shall then turn to the appeal on the ground of unconstitutionality.

With regard to the inner nature and processes of the legal action, we cannot now speak in detail, but this company has made a great determination, i. e., that it will itself undertake this legal battle, and we here declare to you, our fellow countrymen residing in America, that we do not desire material aid. All we wish is your spiritual and moral support. Countrymen, with gratitude for the help which has been given, we hope your courage and spirit will continue to increase.

JAPANESE WILL SEEK TO ENJOIN STATUTE

The purpose of the New World in connection with this announcement of intention to fight the law in the courts, its tremendous majority notwithstanding, says to the Japanese of California:

There is no ground for alarm; because we have been worsted in the first battle. Countrymen, in the legal battle which is to follow, the enemy can use neither brute force nor the power of money. Let them move the great crowds as they will under the leadership of their bravest generation, before the law all are equal. Countrymen, do not yield a hair's breadth. Go straight ahead with stubborn courage. This paper yesterday fired the first gun in declaration of legal war. We are determined to continue this war to the bitter end if it takes three years or five years.

Countrymen, apply to the anti-Japanese law passes, remain calm and self-possessed. Fear it not. People who get excited and prepare to return to Japan are spiritless. They will be despised by those who have the courage of Japanese men join us in maintaining this fight!

FACTIONS DISPUTE OVER RIGHT TO RELIGIOUS NAME

The legal battle in the Alameda County Superior Court before Judge Everett J. Brown for the possession of the name "Christian Science Society" by rival factions of an organization in the university of Christian Science, California, was resumed this morning when Miss Augusta C. Taylor, one of the defendants, took the stand.

Miss Taylor, a reader of the society, testified as to her position and to the action she and two others had taken which resulted in a split in the society, which caused her expulsion, as well as the attempted expulsion of her associates. Her expulsion, she said, resulted when she and Philip Stone, with Leroy W. Allen, took issue with the other members to maintain the distribution in the university of Christian Science publications and periodicals, which were discarded by the society.

MISS TAYLOR TESTIFIES

A meeting of the society was called without notifying Miss Taylor, according to her testimony, and resolutions were passed and an election of new officers held. Following this meeting, Miss Taylor, as recording secretary of the society, said she wrote a letter to the members declaring that the meeting and subsequent action taken was not binding on the by-laws and principles of the society and that she would refuse to recognize the new officers. According to the letter, which was introduced in evidence, Miss Taylor claimed that there were no grounds upon which to take such action and that there were no grounds upon which she could be expelled from the society. She contended in the letter that she had supported the national publications of the society, which the local officers had decided to discard, because such was one of the aims of the mother church.

Miss Taylor also related during the course of her testimony that on February 27 of this year she went to the meeting place of the society in Berkeley prepared to take up her duties as reader and was prevented from doing so by force. J. B. O'Connor, Democrat, 88,436; Lynn J. Frazier, Republican-Non-Partisan, 89,143.

Wilson and Candidate Cox, asserting that the former had "laid the foundation for the disaster" and the latter had "completed the structure."

Wayne B. Wheeler, legislative counsel of the Anti-Saloon League of America, issued a statement declaring a check of the congressional election in forty states showed a "substantial majority" in both houses against any beer or wine amendment.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour, Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried peppermint, bismuth, and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic, try the effect of a little bicarbonate of soda, or the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, oxide or milk, but the pure bicarbonate of soda which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water before your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your trouble.

You will find that provided you take a little bicarbonate of soda immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and moreover, the continued use of the bicarbonate of soda will injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.—Advertisement.

DEMOCRATS PLAN BRAND NEW PARTY; BRYAN WILL LEAD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Complete reorganization of the Democratic party, and facing in that, the organization of an entire new party, will be considered at a conference of Democratic leaders opposed to the domination of President Wilson and Governor Cox, to be held in New York City, Nov. 15th of November, it is reported. The call was issued a week before the election.

BRYAN IN MOVIE
William Jennings Bryan will be one of the most active participants in the conference.

Bryan is convinced that the domination of President Wilson has been so disastrous that the Democratic party in reality no longer exists and that it must be reorganized under a different name.

TO SPEAK MERGERS
An effort will also be made to seek affiliation with certain elements in the Non-Partisan League, which has been spreading with great rapidity through North and South Dakota, Minnesota and other Northwestern states, and with the Farmer-Labor party, which is showing increasing strength.

The leaders in the present movement express the greatest fear that the forces now in charge of the Democratic organizations are too strong to be easily divided. Moreover, these forces are in such a favor with the voters that no movement which includes them is stated, can possibly commend itself to the public.

Arizona Elects
Cameron, Campbell

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 4.—United Press.—With returns from ten of Arizona's fourteen counties in, Harding was leading Cox by more than 4000 votes. Latest totals were: Harding, 16,529; Cox, 12,761.

Ralph Cameron has been elected to the United States Senate over Senator Smith, incumbent, by more than 1000 plurality.

Governor Thomas Campbell, Rep., was re-elected by about 2000 plurality.

Republican state headquarters today claimed to have made a clean sweep in state offices, although the result in several cases still was in doubt.

All state initiative and referendum measures have been defeated.

Tennessee's Bolt From South Surprise

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 4.—Latest returns this morning indicate that Senator Warren C. Harding has carried Tennessee by 10,000 to 12,000 plurality.

The three counties still missing, in 1918 returned a Republican plurality approximately of 1500. Al Taylor (Rep.), who campaigned with the old plantation quartet composed of his three sons, has carried the three counties.

Senator Joseph Brown (Rep.) has been elected to Congress by nearly 3000 plurality over Congressman John A. Moon, who has represented the third district for twelve terms.

Montana Elects G. O. P. Governor

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 4.—Montana is safely Republican today. Figures compiled this morning show Harding's popular vote as 30,480, against 24,148 for Governor Cox.

Joseph M. Dixon, Republican, is the state's governor-elect. He has a lead of 34,128 today over Burton K. Wheeler, his Democratic opponent.

Congressman Carl W. Rickard, Republican, was easily re-elected in the second district.

Senator William C. McGowan, Republican, was re-elected in the first district while also a Republican, Washington J. McCormick, who has a lead of approximately 10,000 over Burton K. Wheeler, Democrat.

The Republican elected the entire state ticket in Montana.

Iowa Breaks All Landslide Records

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 4.—Iowa broke all records Tuesday in the landslide which elected Warren G. Harding president of the United States. Latest returns today make it certain that Harding will have a record of 49,000 to 40,000. The largest previous plurality given a presidential candidate was 100,000 for Theodore Roosevelt.

The entire Republican state ticket with pluralities ranging from 200,000 to 400,000. Senator A. B. Cummings was re-elected by a plurality that is expected to reach 250,000 before the complete returns are in. All eleven Republican members of Congress were elected.

Sixty-one Republicans and four Democrats were elected in the house of the Iowa legislature. It returns a total of 120 members. Cummings, Republican, was elected speaker. Representative George W. Chamberlain, Democrat, who is serving his third term in the upper house at Washington, was re-elected.

When all the votes shall have been counted, it will probably be seen that Harding beat Cox more than 2 to 1 in Oregon. The totals to date are: Harding, 188,344; Cox, 61,224.

RAILWAYS REPORT A HUGE DEFICIT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Private operation of the railroads for the first six months since the end of federal control will cost the government a total of $650,000,000, according to figures made public by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The railroads reported a net deficit of $206,000,000 during the six months period and besides this sum the treasury must pay them $450,000,000 the amount of the guarantee provided in the transportation act. Part of the deficit is charged to increased pay granted the railroad workers by the railroad labor board.

Operating revenues of the roads for August, according to the commission's figures, increased by only about $33,000,000 compared with August of 1919, while operating expenses advanced more than $300,000,000.

The western district showed the highest net operating income for the eight months with $13,000,000 compared with $152,000,000 for the first eight months last year and the southern district was next with a net operating income for the period of $2,000,000 against $30,000,000 for the corresponding period of the year before.

The eastern district operated at a loss of $176,000,000 for the first eight months of the year compared with a net income of $113,000,000 for the same months last year, while the southern district showed a net income of $1,000,000 against $13,000,000 for the first eight months of 1919.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN KODAKING?
If So Make Our Store Your Headquarters
We cannot impress our friends too emphatically with the idea that every one should have a Kodak and that every Kodak owner should keep it busy.
With a Kodak you can not only take good outdoor pictures, but you can take splendid interior, attractive portraits and by enlarging you can secure art studies that are worthy of framing and which would cost you a great deal more if purchased at an art store.
Although Kodaking is all very simple, at the same time there are many points that, if missed, will result in a poor picture and we wish you to know that the experts in our photographic department are ready to give you the benefit of their experience and to help your picture taking to be all the easier.
There is nothing confusing about a Kodak and yet a Brownie is even simpler.
We also have all kinds of photographic accessories and Kodak attachments, such as softeners, which press the button for you and allow you to take your own picture in the group—portrait attachments, which cost only 50c each and which, when placed over the lens enable you to take portraits that compare favorably with professional work.
No matter what you want of a photographic nature, whether it be a Kodak or films or development apparatus, we have it here in stock.

OUR SAFE COUGH MEDICINE FOR CHILDREN
Made Without Narcotics In Our Laboratory
We have mentioned in our Bulletin a great many times the cough syrup that we put up especially for children's use, and it may seem to some of you that a repetition of this item is unnecessary.
We feel on the other hand, that a matter as important as this must continuously be brought before the public.
Most cough syrups are made for adults and the narcotics contained therein, although not harmful to grown people, are likely to be detrimental to a baby.
Our cough syrup for children is called Pine and Tar Special and we guarantee it to be free from all poisons and narcotics.
It is successful in most cases and you can always give it to a child, no matter how small, with perfect confidence.
25c a bottle.

OLD SOL IS A FOOLER. SO LOOK OUT
It Might Rain Any Time—Don't Be Umbrellaless
Just because the sun shines today is no reason for you to figure that you can get through the winter without an umbrella.
The first thing you know you will be caught in the rain and be rushing in here with your clothes all wet, and probably damaged, and buy an umbrella at the last moment.
Our winter stock of umbrellas is now on hand and we have an excellent assortment of all kinds from the little ones used by school children to the fashionable colored silk umbrellas favored by the ladies and the practical strong, durable kinds of interest to the men.
We have never had a better stock of umbrellas than we have right now.

A GOOD GREASE REMOVER
The best way to remove grease from your clothing or from any fabric is to use Klenzol.
This preparation removes stains without injury to the fabric and with practically no rubbing.
It is non-inflammable and is perfectly safe to use indoors.
Professional cleaners use Klenzol or similar preparations for all of their work, and you can get results, at a great deal lower cost, by using Klenzol.
It sells for 25c a bottle.

EVEREADY FLASH LIGHTS
You would be surprised to know of the great number of Eveready Flash Lights sold at our store.
It seems as though practically everyone in this vicinity owns a flash light and that a great many people own several.
Please remember that we carry a full line of batteries of all kinds to fit every style of the Eveready Davlo Flash Lights. These batteries are all fresh and are carefully tested before we leave the store.
We also carry extra bulbs for all models and make repairs when necessary.

CURE THAT COLD
There seems to be quite an epidemic of colds and in this connection we would suggest that you try Bowman's Cold Tablets in case you feel a cold coming on.
We do not claim that these tablets will cure a cold that has settled upon the system, but if you will take them in time you will almost invariably get immediate relief.
10c, 20c, 25c and 50c.

A FINE FACE CREAM
Have you ever tried Bowman's Peroxide Vanishing Cream?
Customers are coming in continually and asking for this preparation, which indicates to us that it must be giving very satisfactory results.
This cream is usually put on before applying powder and is of a quality not easy to secure on this market.
It comes in an attractive glass, screw top jar at 25c.

RED FIRE WILL FLARE ON LAWN OF MARION, O.

MARION, O., Nov. 4.—With only two days remaining before he leaves Marion for a month's vacation trip, President-elect Harding went to work today clearing up his desk of the final left-over details of his campaign.

With Mr. Harding he will start Saturday for Point Isabel, Texas, where he will spend twelve days hunting and fishing prior to an ocean voyage to the Panama canal zone. He plans to be back in Marion Dec. 6 and after that may go to a golf resort for a winter sojourn to be spent in choosing his cabinet and formulating the policies of his administration. On his way back the president-elect may make short talks from his train along the way. He also may deliver one or two addresses on particular subjects before March 4.

Tonight Marion is to celebrate formally his election, and several hundred people from other cities are expected to join in the occasion. There will be all the noise and red fire that his loyal neighbors and friends can produce, and many special features to give the Harding front porch and lawn one final baptism of campaign glory.

COX TO VISIT EUROPE
By HERBERT W. WALKER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
DARTON, O., Nov. 4.—Governor James M. Cox said today he probably would visit Europe in the spring of 1921. He indicated he desired to make a first hand investigation of the conditions there as they affect the United States, in addition to satisfying a love for travel.

He has made no mention of any future political plans, despite the fact he has received hundreds of messages pleading him support in 1924.

Today the governor was back in his newspaper office devoting some attention to his paper for virtually the first time since his acceptance speech. He continued in a most cheerful mood.

He expected to go to Columbus to-

Foreign Press Says Vote Is Defeat of Wilson Ideas

TOKYO, Nov. 4.—(United Press).—Although arousing great interest, thus far no serious agitation or demonstration as a result of the California vote on the anti-alien land law has been reported in Japan.

The people seem tired out after three days of strenuous celebration marking the ceremony of unveiling of the Meiji shrine, which was made a national event.

BERLIN COMMENT
BERLIN, Nov. 4.—"The American election result was not a victory for Senator Harding, nor a defeat for Governor Cox, but a severe defeat for Wilsonism," says the Voelke Zeitung. This declaration seemed to be the keynote of the comment in all sections of the press.

"The Americans used the ballot to express a damning verdict against the League of Nations," said the Berliner Tageblatt.

"It is a destructive verdict on President Wilson's politics," said the Taegliche Rundschau. The Tageszeitung expressed the opinion that Governor Cox was "the better man," and probably would have won "if he had not taken over the Wilsonian inheritance."

LESSER OF TWO EVILS
The German press in general seems to be disinclined to rest many hopes in President-elect Harding, but regards him as "the lesser of two evils."

"In one respect we gain something, we are free from Wilson," said the Lokal Anzeiger.

Other newspapers take a similar view except the Freiheit, the organ of the Communists, which declares that both Republicans and Democrats represent only capitalist interests, and that Germany will not secure any real gains from either side.

INTEREST IN CABINET
LONDON, Nov. 3.—The Daily News, in an editorial expresses the opinion that the composition of President Harding's cabinet will be more important for Englishmen than Harding's election.

"The appointment of Herbert Hoover and Elihu Root, whose names have been circulating for some time, would be a very important business that has accumulated during the last two weeks of the campaign," newspaper correspondents, who have been with the governor during the campaign, will be his guests at a dinner at Traill's End tonight.

Oklahoma Woman Second to Take Seat in Congress

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Nov. 4.—(United Press).—For the second time a woman will sit in the House of Representatives after Democrats today conceded the election of Miss Alice M. Robertson, 66, Republican candidate for congress from the Second District. Miss Jeanette M. Rankin of Montana was the first woman elected to congress in 1916.

Miss Robertson is a pioneer. She was born near here, where her father was a missionary to the Indians. President Wilson appointed Miss Robertson as postmistress here.

Miss Robertson was active in state politics. She was vice-president of the State Anti-Suffrage Association before she was elected. She also was active in opposing suffrage until the Susan B. Anthony amendment was adopted.

During the war she operated a cafeteria where soldiers and sailors were given meals free.

The electorate is tired of what the journals call "one man rule."

The Liverpool Post says: "Senator Harding goes to the White House as the representative of a profound belief, long maturing among the larger part of the nation, that Wilsonism is alien to American traditions and that America should not entangle herself in the affairs of distracted Europe."

This newspaper expresses the opinion that the election of Senator Harding does not mean antagonism to the League of Nations and "believes that America is searching in her heart of hearts for a new method of achieving the august purpose of the covenant which she can approve without misgiving."

The Yorkshire Post considers it a good omen that in the present phase of its history the United States should have elected the candidate it did.

"Senator Harding's aim, at least, is already defined. He wishes to help the world so far as he can honorably do with the approval of congress and without compromising American interests," says this newspaper.

"We believe we interpret European as well as British opinion," it adds, "when we say that an American government which stands for our own rights, last and foremost, at the same time will be united and appreciated in this old world of ours which has lost its illusions and is no longer in a mood to strain after visionary politics."

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 4.—Reports of the election in the United States were given the entire front page of newspapers of this city. Only two journals, however, the Excelsior and El Herald de Mexico, ventured to speculate editorially on what a Pan-American administration means for this country.

The former says "immediate recognition of the United States," and the other asserts "Senator Harding's election will not be an obstacle to good relations between Mexico and the United States."

The Excelsior, which says a "personal rebuke" for President Wilson, asserts he "now can scarcely be expected to refrain from recognizing Mexico as a revenge against the Republican Senatorial majority which in the past has assumed an uncordial and even hostile attitude toward this country."

FEDERAL JUDGE TO QUIZ PALMER IN COAL CASES

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 4.—Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer was advised in a telegram from United States District Judge A. B. Anderson today that an investigation of the attorney general's connection in the case of 125 coal miners and operators indicted March 21, when the case is called for trial in the federal court here on Nov. 5.

The telegram said: "Judge Anderson directs me to notify you that the case against the soft coal operators and miners, U. S. 22, Armstrong, et al., will be called for trial in this court at the time set next Monday, November 8, at which time an investigation will be made in open court of certain matters involving your connection with the case. This notice is given so that you may be present if you so desire."

Judge Anderson's action was the result of the resignation on October 4 of Mr. Simms, who was in charge of the prosecution of the 125 miners and operators indicted March 21, for violation of the Lever Act. They were indicted by a special grand jury convened by Judge Anderson, December 17, 1919, to investigate the miners' strike in the bituminous fields last November, and of any possible collusion between the miners and operators in connection with the strike.

Simms' explanation of his resignation was that Attorney General Palmer had imposed limitations that literally cut the heart out of the case.

PALMER ABSENT
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Attorney General Palmer was absent from the city today and officials at the department would make no comment on the telegram which Judge Anderson at Indianapolis announced he had sent to Palmer, Robert T. Scott, assistant to the attorney general, said the telegram had not yet been received.

Department of Justice officials confessed to be at a loss to understand the meaning of the telegram to the attorney general, which was made public at Indianapolis.

Dan W. Simms, special assistant to the attorney general in charge of the Indianapolis bituminous coal cases, resigned recently after receiving instructions that he was not to use a second time evidence against the coal operators, which was the basis for previous contempt proceedings against them.

Palmer stated at that time that he and Simms had agreed not to use this evidence and that the agreement had been made in the presence of Judge Anderson.

"Uncle Warren" Will Have Lots Of Relations Now, Says Niece

MRS. FRANK BIGGS, niece of Warren C. Harding, president-elect of the United States, caught by The TRIBUNE camera as she was ready for an ascent over Oakland to shower campaign literature for man she declares will be a "regular" president.

Cousins and relatives and near relatives, folk who would be related to the ancestral tree to find a branch whereon a leaf of family connection might be discovered, is the direct and immediate result of confirmation of the election of Warren C. Harding as the next president of the United States according to his niece, Mrs. Frank Biggs.

Mrs. Biggs is a brown-eyed, youthful matron whom Oakland has claimed as a resident since last April. While her husband is in attendance at the school maintained by the railroad for his executives, the home is established at 1335 Howe street. When the student days are done in the pioneer days of the home over the lines as an auditor. No feminine campaign worker was more enthusiastic in sponsoring the Republican cause in theameda county headquarters than the young woman whose uncle was candidate for the highest office of the land.

"There are lots of people now that the fight is over rising up to claim kinship to Uncle Warren," she says. But then it is not surprising for the Harding family is an old Revolutionary one, with valiant deeds done in the pioneer days of the nation, according to Mrs. Biggs.

"It would seem that Warren C. Harding was himself distinguished by his devotion to the people of his own blood. 'When he visited us five years ago, in Southern California,' she reminds, 'he was just as busy as he could be hunting up all the people that he thought might be related to us. When his wife made a playful protest, he patted her on the shoulder and told her to 'not mind he had never yet found anyone who had disappointed him.'"

"Uncle Warren is a 'regular' uncle," she explains the man who for 25 years has been prominent in public life.

"We children have always thought of him as just one of ourselves with never a Christmas or holiday to go by without knowing he thought about it for us. I guess he will be a frequent president, and the people will love him as we do when they know him."

Warren C. Harding and Mrs. L. E. Remsburg of Santa Ana, mother of Mrs. Biggs, are brother and sister, the oldest of the eight children, with only 15 months difference in their ages. They have been "buds" since infancy. The only brother of "Uncle Warren" is Dr. George Tyrone Harding, a prominent nerve specialist and physician in Cincinnati, Ohio. Besides Mrs. Remsburg and Mrs. Votaw who has been made a flattering offer for the United States Health Service, and sister is living, Miss Nellie Marie Remsburg, a sister of Mrs. Biggs is at present in Marion, Ohio, the old family home.

BIRTHDAYS MEAN A LOT
"Birthdays mean a lot in our family," Mrs. Biggs reviews. "Uncle Warren was elected on his own, but he received the nomination on my grand father's, George Tyrone Harding. The father of the president-elect is a civil war veteran residing at the family place in Marion."

"Uncle Warren just made the people of Santa Ana love him when he visited another five years ago," his niece explains. "It was the beginning of his big victory in California."

California is to be well represented in Washington next March when the new president takes oath of office. For Mrs. Biggs is to be one of the family party, going east long enough to enjoy a visit to the Harding home before the exodus to the national capital.

Could hardly breathe—Eats anything now, and does his farm work.

"For years I suffered with indigestion, constipation and accumulation of gas which affected my heart at times. I could not get my breath. I tried several doctors for three years, but since taking Milk's Emulsion I have improved so that I can do my own farm and store work. ## MY HEART and MY HUSBAND

by ADELE GARRISON

"That will hardly go down, Rawlins has hesitated to break in. I've instructed him to do it now, if necessary. For the last time, will you go through and unlock the door leading from the old bedroom to the private hall so we can get up?"

"No, Bobby cried, I wouldn't do it if I believed you were right. And I know you're wrong."

"Prove that we're wrong. Clear your cousin by helping us," Robinson urged.

"Since you're so determined, Graham said quietly, 'I'll do it.' 'Harter! What are you thinking of?'

"Of showing them how wrong they are," Graham said. 'I'll tell her Doctor Groom wishes to speak to her about Mr. Blackburn. I'll warn him to keep her downstairs for a quarter of an hour. That should give you plenty of time.'

Robinson nodded.

"It's never forgive you," Bobby said. "It's saying."

He wondered that Graham should choose such a course so soon after he had become clear that Katherine had been equal to her own part.

"It's the best way to satisfy them," Graham said. "I have, perhaps, more faith than you in Katherine."

He left them to carry out their instructions, and went to the entrance of the private staircase.

"I may witness this outrage," Bobby asked.

"I'd rather you didn't speak of it in such harsh terms," Robinson smiled.

Bobby didn't know what to expect. The whole thing might be a trick of Robert's in line with his hints the night of Howell's death, to involve Katherine. The quiet confidence of the two officials was disturbing.

After a long time Graham descended the private staircase, carrying a lighted candle. He beckoned and they followed him back through the private hall into the wide and mournful bedroom. It encouraged Bobby to see the district attorney and the detective hurry across it.

After all, they were really without confidence of solving the really rid die. What they were about to do, he argued, was a last chance. They would find nothing. They would find nothing. They would find nothing.

When they entered the farther wing he noticed that Katherine's door stood wide.

"When I called her," Graham explained, "she thought something had happened to her grandfather. She ran and forgot all about the door."

Robinson grinned. "That's lucky. Now, Rawlins."

Bobby couldn't bring himself to cross the threshold, but from the corridor he could see the interior of the room and all that went on there during the next few moments. A candle burned on the bureau, exposing the feminine neatness and delicacy of the furnishings.

The three men were about to go, an unforgettable act of vandalism.

Rawlins went to a work table while Robinson rummaged in the closet. Graham, meantime, bent over the footboard of the bed, watching with anxious eyes Bobby's anger was increased by this picture.

He resisted an impulse to run to the stairs and call Katherine up. That would simply increase Robinson's suspicions. There was nothing he could do, nothing he could do.

Rawlins had clearly been unsuccessful at the work table. He left the bureau. One after the other he opened the drawers, fumbling within, lifting the contents out, replacing them with a rough haste while Bobby's full rage increased.

Suddenly he saw Katherine's attire. Rawlins' back stiffened. He pulled the bottom drawer altogether from the bureau and thrust it to one side. He gazed at the opening.

"Come here, Mr. Robinson," he said softly.

Pageant to Portray Life Of Indians

By EDNA B. KINARD

Annual conventions are a long way off. Yet it never is too early to begin to plan for the fact that holidays and spiritism are between. Already there is considerable anticipation in the big gathering of the California Federation of Women's Clubs which is scheduled for May in Yosemite Valley.

A pageant reviving the romantic traditions of the early Indians, portraying a group of their happy legends, is being planned. The picture of those first people who lived and loved and hunted through the redwood forests will be a notable feature of the week's program.

The event is being carried out. Already the hint for such an entertainment, staged by the clubwomen and a part of the work of the Indian Welfare department, has been sent out. Mrs. Charles C. Arwood, chairman of Indian work, is considering the best of the pioneer story in its natural setting may be elaborated.

The last week May has been designated as the time when the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Federation women or so many of their representatives as are able will assemble at the famous national park to discuss the accumulation of the years and the progress of the movement for the unfolding of the woman's wide program of service.

Enjoyment and education are the aims of the celebration. There is to be a pageant of the Indian life, a part of the program, and the prominent part will be given over to the federation matters and the prominent part will be given over to the federation matters and the prominent part will be given over to the federation matters.

The program preceding Thanksgiving will be devoted to religious music. The Adolphus Club has given recognition to one of its prominent members in announcing the publication of a group of San Francisco stories from the pen of Mrs. Harriet Holmes Huxley.

Ship Board Ties Up 24 Lake Steamers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Orders to withdraw 24 lake type steel steamers aggregating approximately $4,000,000 in value from service have been issued by the shipping board.

The vessels are to be tied up at Norfolk, Va., under caretakers. The general shipping situation makes it difficult for the smaller craft such as these to find cargoes because of the slump in ocean freight rates, officials explained.

ROSENTHAL IS
INSTRUCTED JURY

Declaring that the case had been "spic wide open," Deputy District Attorney Earl Warren today asked Superior Judge James O. Quinn to instruct the jury to acquit Sacco and Vanzetti. The judge said that the chain of grocery stores, who was charged with obtaining $1000 from the Central National Bank here on a false statement, The jury returned a verdict of "not guilty."

Quinn said that the Rose-nathans, whose three stores had been taken over by his creditors, was that he obtained $1000 from the Central National Bank by fraud because he had obtained this money payable to $9775.64, whereas the prosecution contended they were $1000 greater.

Attorney C. D. Hamlin Jr., who represented Rosenthal in the case declared that the people had been very ill-advised in bringing the case into court at all.

Public to Discuss Harbor Questions

A call for a public hearing November 15 at 2 p. m., to consider questions pertaining to the harbors of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and Alameda was received this morning by the County Civil Engineer, Herbert Deakney of the army. The meeting, it is believed, will be at the city hall and all persons interested in harbor development are invited. The first item on the agenda, it is believed, will be mainly devoted to the Oakland harbor.

We want this actual photograph from one of our big wholesale tailor shops to say just this to you: "Better visit this F & C UPSTAIRS store and see for yourself what splendid clothing $25, $30 or $35 will buy."

Trade upstairs and Save $10

That is our slogan, but $15 or $20 is usually your saving, thanks to our five money-saving reasons:

Do you want to choose from the largest stock of guaranteed overcoats in Chicago at the lowest prices for high-grade, all-wool quality? Do you want to save $15 to $20—really SAVE it? Then read the following five reasons for economy here—and visit this store for smart, new, guaranteed, all-wool clothes at $25, $30 and $35!

1. Coast-to-coast chain of UPSTAIRS stores
2. $497,568.00 saved yearly in rent alone
3. Our own big wholesale tailor shops
4. Plain stores---no mahogany fixtures
5. Cash business---no credit losses

This saving is passed on to you

When you visit any one of our coast-to-coast chain of UPSTAIRS stores, you see finished, well-styled garments hanging on the racks. You know they are all-wool. And you know they are priced at $25, $30 and $35.

But unless you went back to our big wholesale tailor shops and saw the woolens there, and learned how we buy them, you would not know how such prices are possible.

Here's one reason for F & C Savings. We virtually control the output of certain woolen mills. Besides the bigness of our orders, we have another unusual advantage. Our orders are regular, not seasonal. We sell clothes all over the country every day, in our own stores, instead of during a few months twice a year, as the average manufacturer does. No wonder woolen makers grant us "inside" prices.

The rest of our story of economy is equally sane and sound and sensible. By being UPSTAIRS, in plain (not fancy) stores, we prune down operating costs to bed-rock. We cut out the middleman, of course. We eliminate credit losses. We save at every step. And we pass the savings on to you in these guaranteed clothes.

Too Weak to Do Anything

The ordinary every-day life of most women is a ceaseless treadmill of work. How much harder the tasks become when some derangement peculiar to her sex makes every movement painful, and keeps the nervous system all unstrung until life seems hardly worth living. Every woman in this condition should profit by the experience of these two women whose letters follow.

Read the Experience of These Two Women

Reading, Pa.—“I had organic inflammation, pains in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then in bed, and after the first bottle I could be out of bed, then I took Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and also used the Sanative Wash. I still take the medicine and am able now to do my own housework. My friends say, ‘My! but you look well—what do you do? Who is your doctor?’ And there is only one answer, ‘Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines which I gladly recommend.’”—Mrs. W. M. STEPHENS, 560 Douglas Street, Reading, Pa.

Gainesville, Tex.—“For three years I suffered untold agony each month with pains in my side. I found only temporary relief in doctor's medicine or anything else I took until my husband and I saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I mentioned it to a neighbor and she told me she had taken it with good results, and advised me to try it. I was then in bed part of the time, and my doctor said I would have to be operated on, but we decided to try the Vegetable Compound, and I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am a dressmaker and am now able to go about my work, and do my housework besides. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial as I am always glad to speak a word for your medicine.”—Mrs. W. M. STEPHENS, 202 Harvey St., Gainesville, Texas.

FORCED TO STOP WORK YEAR, SAYS MERCHANT

California Man After Years of Suffering From Stomach Trouble Is Entirely
Relieved by Tanlac.

"Tanlac did for me in just a few weeks what I tried for years to get other medicine to do," said Timothy Muldowney, 1325 Blake street, Berkeley, Cal., a well-known merchant, recently.

"Several years ago my stomach began troubling me and I certainly didn't have a time until I got Tanlac. My appetite failed me completely, and even when I ate the lightest kind of a meal so much gas formed I could hardly breathe. I had such pains in my stomach I would nearly bend double, and the gas affected my heart so much at times I became alarmed for fear I had heart trouble. My head ached and bad times it seemed it would burst, and my back hurt like it was going to break every time I stooped over. I was so nervous I never knew what a night's sleep was, and I felt all the time just like I didn't have a particle of energy.

"Well, I kept getting worse until I had to give up work entirely for a year, and was just about completely played out when a friend got me to try Tanlac. But Tanlac got right down to business, and almost before I knew it my stomach was in fine condition. I could eat anything I wanted without suffering afterward, and the headaches, pains in my back and nervousness were things of the past. In fact, I was in splendid condition. It was a short time ago I commenced to feel a little run down on account of an accident, so I got some more Tanlac, and it fixed me up fine again. Having been helped so much twice, I just can't praise Tanlac highly enough."

Tanlac is sold in San Francisco, Oakland and Berkeley by The Owl Drug Company stores and Eberly's Quality Pharmacy, Alameda—Advertisement.

A Time for Good Cheer

Well, in the first place, Honey, I think I'd put my head right down on Jerry's shoulder and LAUGH THE BIGGEST LAUGH I HAD IN ME. I'd laugh clear down to my heels with joy over my good fortune to have that Dandy Hubby Pat, and those two precious babes and the sweet dream that is coming true. I'd laugh over that dear mother-in-law with the true mother heart—and I'd laugh over that big brother who was worrying about me. And I'd laugh, too, over those two sisters who loved me so much that they were making everlasting nuisances of themselves. And then—look at Jerry while I tell you this, dear—I'd laugh just a tiny bit at the blessed little idiot I was myself. Because you are, you know—and I'm loving you with the rest of them while I tell you so.

You see, it's this way. Some folks have just got to start something. They aren't malicious—they're just EMOTIONALLY RESTLESS. If there isn't anything already started, they make something. That's what your sisters are doing. They really love you and probably really love the hubby. But it's such a beautiful chance to raise a row that they can't resist it. You could stop it in a minute if you made up your mind. Just laugh at 'em and tell them they're jealous and then drag them out in the kitchen with you and make a pot of chocolate and some cup cakes. But instead you're crying and taking them seriously.

Come out of it, little girl! Of course you won't ask him to give up those lessons. That would be a mighty selfish deal to hand out to a real pal, wouldn't it? No—turn around and face this thing like the same little fighter you are. Shoo those girls out to mind their own business as you would shoo the babies if they got too obstreperous. And then laugh and kiss them back again. Why, bless you, child, trouble makers blow up like prickled balloons if you turn a grin on them!

And when that new baby comes please hold him closest-close just once for Jerry!

Geraldine: I wonder why it is that the boys are complaining about not being able to find the "old-fashioned girl." There are loads. I don't mean to say that I'm the strictly old-fashioned type because I do love to dance and go to the movies. Don't the decent boys even want us to do that? I'd love to have them as chums but it's hard to find that kind.

And I think you'd make a dandy chum. Little girl, so here's to you, loving Sherlock Holmes that finds the key to your heart.

For Sister's Hope Chest

Dear Geraldine: Please tell me what I can send my sister for her hope chest. She is to be married soon. KATHERINE.

Why not make her an unusual set of luncheon "runners." Kath: Choose grayish blue chambray and split lengthwise. Across the ends apply a four-inch band of unbleached muslin. Upon this muslin apply a simple fruit decoration. A circular piece of orange or red zood with a half circle of some contrasting shade behind it—and two green leaves on either side makes the whole thing. Fasten them on, and then buttonhole around in dark blue wash cotton. Finish the ends and sides with hem fastened with a "darning stitch" in the same blue cotton.

Dear Geraldine: To settle an argument please answer the following: What is the meaning of transport and of transportation? Is it proper to say "Send me my transportation" or "Send me my fare"?

MRS. D.

"Transport" is used either as a verb or a noun. As a verb it means to carry or convey. Also to carry away with strong emotions of joy, sorrow, anger, etc. As a noun it means a conveyance in general or a vessel used for carrying soldiers, provisions or convicts. It also means the state of being carried away by strong emotion.

Transportation is a noun and means the state of being transported. The word is often used in the place of "fare," but this is only a colloquial business term. The proper usage is "fare."

Dear Geraldine: I have gone with a boy about a year. Although he has never said very much about how he cared for me he has seemed to show it in many ways. But lately he has seemed to have changed. I can think of nothing I have done. Since his last trip away he has not written a line. Do you suppose he does not care for me? I adore him and cannot forget him but will not write first as he owes letters. What would you advise? M. B. I.

I think that if I cared deeply I would put my false pride aside and write first. I wouldn't scold or reproach or even talk about "love." I would tell him that I had been very kind in the past to have him for a pal, and that it now seemed as if that companionship was going out of my life. I would ask him frankly if I had done anything to hurt him and I would assure him that I would always hold the door of friendship open for him. Don't be sentimental about it, dear—just chimney. And then you would know whether he really cares or not.

To a Perplexed One

TO PERPLEXED: Sister, I have read your letter over and over with a great deal of pity. I want you to feel that all my friendliness is going out to you and that I am giving you my deepest and most loving help when I answer. Please try to believe that what I say is true. Life and love are strange mysteries to us all, dear. The laws which men have made seem all jumbled up with the wishes God has made. We cannot see very far ahead. But we can see a few simple things and hold on to them as a child holds on to his mother's hand in the dark. We can see the beauty of being kind and honest and clean. We know that these things will last and bring us joy. These are the things you can feel in your own home when you care for your children and husband, even though you married him without the feeling that women call "love." But I truly think that you and he have the greatest sort of love in that quiet little home with the babies. The call of that other man might be very sweet for a while but could it ever give you anything as honey and comforting as that which you now have? We do not know much about God. But we do know that when we are doing right there is a warm content in our hearts like a little home fire. And when we are doing wrong there is a coldness. Do not wonder about the rightness or the wrongness of that other man's voice. Look into your own heart and see the little home fire which is burning there because you are a good wife and a good mother. Dear little sister, do not put that little fire out. Write to me often and let me help you and we will keep it burning. For I truly love you, and I do not think the man will come to your house. He seems to be trying to do the right thing. If he does come and you find it too hard, it would be best to quietly ask him on the side not to come any more, for you do not think it is right. AND ALWAYS REMEMBER THAT JERRY IS YOUR CHUM. CALL TO ME IF EVER YOU NEED A FRIEND.

CIVIL SERVICE PLOT DEFEATED.

The civil service scuttlers at the city hall have been administered a deserved rebuke by the people of Oakland. The two proposals which the majority clique, Commissioners Soderberg, Morse and Edwards, and their official adviser, the city attorney, placed on the ballot with the object of tampering with the civil service system was rejected at Tuesday's election by nearly a three to one vote. The proposed amendment to prevent the recall of elected officials proved recalcitrant to their trust was likewise defeated by a two to one vote.

It was the purpose of the first proposal of the anti-civil service crowd to remove certain additional employees from the civil service list and place them under political control, and of the third to deprive public employees of the right of appeal against dismissal by politicians in office. The existing civil service provisions of the charter preserves to a city employee the right of appeal to the civil service board, a non-political and non-partisan body, for a showing of the causes of his dismissal or suspension by a department head.

This protection of the workers and of the public the civil service scuttlers attempted to destroy. The people have spoken and have told the political machine that it cannot succeed in its reactionary and vicious scheme. Had the people been better informed as to the falsity of the arguments in favor of the amendments, had they been acquainted with the real motives in attempting to break down the last restraints against a return of the spoils system, the vote against the plot of the civil service scuttlers would have been much larger than it was.

THE TRIBUNE started the protest against the scuttling of the civil service and exposed the motives of the machine clique. It has taken a leading and sustaining part in the necessary campaign to preserve civil service and the opportunity, when the right men are elected to the city council, for good and efficient government. In the face of the strenuous and well-financed activities of the political machine which the majority clique at the city hall has built up and controls, the voters of Oakland approved this newspaper's stand by a three-fourths vote.

It is questionable whether the reactionaries and the persons and interests desirous of perpetuating temporary political advantage are content to quit their attacks upon the merit system and good government. The people must be on their guard and ready to defeat any future plot against the civil service system.

ADVICE IGNORED.

Apparently the political and moral leadership of Mr. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, among the unionized workers of the country is of small consequence. At any rate, the Republican landslide of yesterday leads inevitably to such a conclusion.

Mr. Gompers endorsed Governor Cox, the Democratic candidate for the Presidency. He announced in a carefully prepared letter of advice to organized labor that he had investigated the record of Governor Cox and found it to be acceptable to organized labor, compared to the record of Senator Harding. The country was given to understand plainly that in the view of the unionized workers Mr. Cox had of record done much, both in a private and in his official capacity, to make him acceptable and that Senator Harding, the Republican candidate, was, by his official record, his political associations and his public utterances, unacceptable to organized labor.

But the rank and file of organized labor did not reach the same conclusions as Mr. Gompers. In the great industrial States, which Mr. Cox hoped to win if he hoped to be President, unprecedented majorities were piled up for Mr. Harding. A million and a quarter plurality in New York State; nearly as large a plurality in Illinois; 300,000 in Ohio; 400,000 in Pennsylvania; the former Democratic city of Boston, Republican by 50,000; greatly increased Republican plu-ralities in Connecticut, Massachusetts, West Virginia, Indiana, Missouri, Kansas and Michigan.

In Ohio, the State which Mr. Cox made the fight of his life to win, the State of coal and iron mines, foundries, coke plants, rubber factories, automobile plants and other large industrial establishments, the Republican majority is larger than ever before in the history of the State. In Iowa, where an alleged fight was made against Senator Cummins because of his co-authorship of the Esch-Cummins bill, the chief author of the railroad law is victor by 100,000.

These and numerous other incidents of the election go to indicate that the official leaders of union labor, chief among whom is Mr. Gompers, exert very little influence on election results of a national character. Tuesday's returns leave the impression that if Mr. Gompers' letter in behalf of Governor Cox had any effect at all it was to make the defeat of Mr. Cox more decisive and overwhelming than it might have been.

HOARDING COMMODITIES.

An article in these columns a few days ago directed attention to the possible consequences of the so-called strike of wheat growers of the Middle West against the market until it offered them $3 a bushel for their grain. The opinion was ventured it might turn out that the farmers were following a mistaken course and might experience some difficulty in obtaining their price. In this connection the following from a monthly business letter published by one of the factors in the Chicago meat-packing industry is interesting.

"Apparently most of the farmers who can afford to do so are holding their wheat, corn, oats and cotton against a falling market in the expectation that such a course will cause prices to rise. It may be that in normal times such a policy would have that result, but today, with the volume of bank loans higher than they have ever been, and with the ratio of gold reserve to note circulation lower by far than it should be, and with exceedingly low foreign exchange rates, the stalemate of crop movement may easily have exactly the opposite effect on markets than the one which farmers hope for."

This warning to the farmers of the great grain-growing sections would seem to be timely. They would appear to serve their interest best, in the long run, by keeping up with the downward procession of prices; otherwise they may be caught with a surplus of supplies which they cannot longer hold and will have to take a still greater loss than now faced in order to get rid of them.

What the economic situation needs most just now is a continued free movement of goods. There is plenty of money, more than ever before, but goods hoarded and held off the market—any market—ties up money that is needed elsewhere in this period of credit deflation. The Middle West farmers just now, by withholding their crops from the market are holding up in loans money that is urgently needed in industry. If the farmers would sell their products and pay off their loans with the proceeds this money would be released for other purposes.

Business reports for the last month indicate a considerable increase in mercantile failures and the sections mostly affected were the cotton-growing districts of the South and the grain district of the Middle West. When collections are bad many businesses suffer hardship and this is precisely what has accompanied the "strike" of the wheat and cotton growers. In many instances industrial plants have slowed up, laying off a part of their working force, thus putting men out of employment and affecting the stability of wages. The farmers' strike is of a different kind and may have altogether different results.

GHOSTS OF VERSAILLES.

French villagers at Versailles tell weird stories of having seen ghosts about the buildings and grounds of the Petit Trianon, the palace in which the Allies-German peace treaty was signed in May, 1919. According to the villagers, this ghost of Versailles, which curiously enough was not witnessed until after the peace conference and American tourists began to visit the hall of mirrors in which the treaty was signed, was first seen at the dairy which was constructed in the days of Marie Antoinette. Vapory human forms were seen to float from a window of the dairy, which had been boarded up.

Thus, after several centuries of interesting and tragic history, Versailles has a ghost—in succession to the peace conference of 1918. Have the village neighbors of the Petit Trianon been the only peoples destined to see the ghost of Versailles? Or will the present and future generations of peoples through the earth see the visitations of the ghosts of Versailles? There are some who held that a whole procession of demonic figures were created by the peace conference, just the kind of creatures that are reputed to perpetuate themselves as ghosts.

Senator Wesley L. Jones, author of the new merchant marine law, has been re-elected in the State of Washington and Senator Albert B. Cummins, chief framer of the railroad law, has been re-elected in Iowa. These two senators were the pilots of the two most important pieces of legislation enacted at the last session of Congress and it is particularly gratifying that their constituents have returned them to the Senate, where they may give their aid and advice to the administration of the laws. The merchant marine law particularly needs such congressional attention as Senator Jones will be able to see that it receives.

NOTES and COMMENT

It was supposed the election bet had reached the last heights of the ridiculous when the penalty of the loser was rolling a peanut with a toothpick around a block; but a San Jose man has discovered a loftier peak. He laid a wager with an undertaker, by the terms of which he was to lie in state in one of the undertaker's caskets in a public park if Cox won; and the undertaker was to drink a bottle of particularly distasteful stomach bitters if Harding won. The undertaker will have to take his medicine, it would appear.

They have thirty ideas in South Carolina. The sum of one dollar a day was authorized to be paid election officers, with the result that but one ballot box was opened at the legal hour in Columbia and up to 11 o'clock the boxes were still unopened. But the South doesn't need any balloting. It can be reckoned as being solid, whether a vote is cast or not.

Now that election is over, the general run of news gets a chance. Almost the first thing a despatch comes through with the absorbing news that "girls are to be used as caddies on the Reno golf links, according to Miss Mary Dun, manager of the Golf club."

That the mail carrier who was arrested for burning campaign mail matter instead of delivering it, but because it made his load too heavy should be tried by a jury of those to whom it was addressed. He would be sure of an acquittal and a vote of thanks—San Bernardino Sun.

The despatch to the effect that White, Cox's campaign manager, issued a statement expressing satisfaction with the way the election was going purported to locate the time on the evening of election day. If he was satisfied at that hour this is only another instance where there is no "luck" coming from any direction. "Luck" remains as not only satisfied Republicans are not only satisfied and glad, but glad that Democrats are glad.

The despatch which states that a guard at the Georgia penitentiary "quietly eloped" with a woman convict got the word in with more appropriateness than it is generally used in that connection. There couldn't have been a great fanfare under the circumstances.

That promise, or story of a promise, to the effect that the President would "quit" as soon as the League of Nations was put through, is now an astronomical distance from reality. Looks as though he will have to wait when the only way in which the league movement can be seen is through a telescope.

Unemphasized despatches state that Mrs. Watkins lost her vote for the prohibition candidate, who was her husband; that Parley P. Christensen cast his vote for the Farmer-Labor candidate, who was himself; and that Eugene Debs, the Socialist candidate, declared that he was not disappointed in the result, though it would seem that he cast no vote. There were no polls in his environment.

The News cheers up the Ted Bluff Chamber of Commerce: "The Chamber of Commerce should not become discouraged by the following the reasoning that both have the same company the aforesaid company dumped a load of fresh gravel into a hole thirty-three feet east of the depot."

It cannot be truthfully said that Tuesday's result surprised any one. There is no contingent of electors in these days, even in the country's furthestmost precinct, who are still voting for Andrew Jackson; consequently there could have been none who did not know what was going to happen. Even the Democratic candidate himself must have known how it was going to be.

The Cuban elections were very tame—only eight killed at the polls. In these elections it appears to be considered that they do not get much action on election days unless there is a goodly showing of fatalities.

SARDINA-- THE LOST ISLE

"A traveler of fine imagination suggests that travel involves a double journey—one forward through space, the other backward through time." Your steamboat ticket from Civitavecchia, the port of Rome, entitles you to an eight-hour voyage to Sardinia, but affords a premium of several thousand years backward to Europe's earliest traceable history.

With this introduction the National Geographic Society issues the following bulletin on Sardinia, which has a double interest just now because of the reported native demand for home rule, and because Americans have found traces containing wolfram, highly prized as a source of tungsten. "The contact of America adds another stratum to the civilizations that have left a deposit in Sardinia. For the Romans and the Carthaginians operated mines there; and there are traces that point to the presence of Egyptians and Phoenicians. In addition Vandals, Saracens, Pisans, Genoese, Spaniards and Austrians held sway there before it fell to the House of Savoy and was attached to modern Italy."

"Second only to Sicily among Mediterranean islands, Sardinia has been referred to as the lost Isle of that sea. Geographically it has been said to turn its back on Italy, for its east coast is mountainous. Its isolation has a compensation in preserving the homogeneity of a people who have a special interest for students of racial history. Sardinians are small of stature. Even their soldiers have an average height a fraction under five feet four inches. One theory is that they are the purest remaining descendants of the so-called Mediterranean race; another that they descended from certain African pygmy peoples, a speculation of peculiar interest in view of the present discussion over the reported finding of a race of pygmies in the Belgian Congo by Dr. Leonard J. Vanderberg, an American missionary. Lady Stanley has asserted that her husband, Henry M. Stanley, refers to the same little people in his book "In Darkest Africa."

"Other factors than its geography contributed to Sardinia's isolation. Once it was the Siberia of the Roman Empire, and graves were kept waiting for some convicts. Later it was afflicted by the medieval type of the Kentucky feud, the vendetta and modern science found a new danger, greatly exaggerated for a time, in malaria."

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

What You Can Do to Make Yourself the Proper Weight

By Dr. LEONAR K. HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. D.
(Johns Hopkins University.)

For you, who would be lean, take off your waistcoats, gird up your loins, bid farewell to sweets, accept the bitter pill, for there is no "eat and grow thin, there is no royal, easy, comfortable way."

For the rest, whatever avoidpouls you lose, you lose it by infinite labor and search, ranging through all the facts of nature.

The bitterest thing you ever knew is ambrosia for slenderness.

Baths of epsom salts, diets of sour milk or buttermilk—all the tricks, all the simple devices, teas or purgatives will fail, unless you work and diet.

Do this often and long each day, whether cold or not. Take up too dancing and keep your weight away from your heels all day long.

The heels of a fat man or woman ought never to touch the earth. This requires constant exercise.

If you are obese, never be "fat ease"; keep your shoulders, your torso, your whole muscular skeleton at tension and high tone all the time.

There must be no flabby, unused muscles. You must have muscles growing more powerful all the time.

You ought to sweat a dozen times a day—not from heat or baths, but from muscular effort.

Cold baths, cold weather and cold in general stir the muscles to work, to burn up fat. Hot baths and heat in general make the muscles lazy. Thus, more fat accumulates.

Electricity, vibration, osteopathy, chiropractic, massage, Swedish movements, hard work, gymnastics, athletics and swimming all help to rid your muscles of oils and fats and sugars. These plus aids are all mechanical. Usual laborious aids. While their physiological theories are absurd, as physical exercises they are fat reducers.

The mountains of fat around the hips and stomach ought to be squeezed, worked, kneaded and expressed out of existence until the sweat pours from these areas several times a day.

The intestines and alimentary canals of fat persons are to be thoroughly emptied two or three times a day.

Clear broths, whey and 15 full glasses of water between and before meals each day commonly help.

Bran, whole wheat, berries, lemon juice, parsnips, lettuce, spinach, peas and sprouts are to be your diet.

Mineral oil, phosphate of soda, epsom salts, seltzer powder, milk of magnesia and lime water aid the alimentary tube to empty itself frequently.

Aerobic deep breaths in the open air, trunk, leg and arm gymnastics and aerobic stunts will soon assist your muscles to free themselves from the fat that binds them around like Prometheus was chained to the rock.

COUNCIL ORDERS ELECTION CLERKS BE PAID EXTRA

Despite Adverse Ruling of City
Attorney, Payment Will Be Made

Despite the adverse opinion by the city attorney, the city council this morning ordered that election officials at the recent election be paid $2 extra compensation for handling the City of Oakland ballots in addition to their regular work.

The city attorney held that the statutes say an election officer is entitled to $10 for his services, and nothing further. Extra compensation, it is held, may therefore be illegal. The opinion was in reply to the request of the city auditor for guidance.

The council held, however, that this was an election called by the City of Oakland, and therefore the City of Oakland has the power to pay its election forces, irrespective of any other election.

CAN FORCE PAY, NT.
In case the auditor still refuses to pay, the council may by four votes enforce the payment.

The announcement has caused a flood of inquiries of the county clerk and others. Hagan appears to stand alone in the position, and those who inquire at his county registrar's office have been told that they need not worry because the money will be forthcoming.

It was today pointed out and confirmed by Ezra Decoto, district attorney, that when Hagan appeared before the supervisors, Decoto's office rendered a reverse opinion, which stand was taken by the supervisors.

The opinion then reached by the district attorney and his aids has not been altered.

CODE GRANTS $10.
Hagan declares that since section 1072 of the political code grants election officials $10 per diem in the general election, the city cannot pay an additional fee.

It was the declaration of District Attorney Decoto at the supervisors' meeting that the section in no way operated to prevent the city from paying additionally for the added heavy work of handling and counting the municipal ballots.

The position of the district attorney's office then, and by the same token now, gives strong backing to several hundred election officials who had understood that they were going to receive $12 each, and are now demanding it since it was authorized by the city council. The extra $2 pay was held up by Auditor Williams pending the Hagan ruling.

Joseph Mosca, 501 One Hundred and Fifth street, who was driving the car, had his wrist broken and was severely cut and bruised. Land Parlane, 309 One Hundred and Fifth street, was bruised and cut.

Another accident occurred at 152d avenue and East Fourteenth street, when little Eva Ferria, 5 of 1642 102d avenue, was struck by a car driven by an unknown woman. The child sustained severe cuts and bruises.

How Mrs. Betty Vent Smith, better known to Oakland society as Betty Vent, has broken into the movies and is well on the way to stardom is the story that is now emanating from Los Angeles and going the rounds of old friends here.

The story begins with the quiet life of a young woman, the widow of a University of California athlete confronted with the task of sustaining herself and her child.

Mrs. Smith went to the movie studios, accompanied by Mrs. Raymond T. Vent, her mother, intent upon finding an opening.

Her good looks and a marked pantomimic ability drew her attention and engagements and she has, according to word received in Oakland, advanced rapidly.

PACIFIC FLEET TO MEET COMMITTEE ON NAVAL BASE

Congressional Visitors Will Be Entertained By Alameda and Oakland

Admiral Hugh Rodman, hero of the North sea, and the Pacific fleet will be anchored off the Alameda naval base while the congressional committee are here.

Notified that the fleet and its commander would come to San Francisco bay from southern waters specially for the congressmen was received today by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. The fleet will drop anchor in man-of-war row on Saturday, November 13, and by the time the senators and representatives arrive, accompanied by the naval experts, it will be "all dolled up" in their honor.

Admiral Rodman is a strong supporter of a naval base on the bay, and as head of the Pacific fleet he wants it established without further delay. In a recent interview he said: "The Pacific naval base should be established now on San Francisco bay. This bay is the place. The executive officers of the navy are naturally the most competent judges and I know they are, practically without exception, agreed on San Francisco bay as the location for a naval base."

COMMITTEE MEETING.
Chairman W. W. Chapin has called a meeting of the naval base committee with the harbor development committee for luncheon tomorrow in the blue room of the Hotel Oakland to complete details of the presentation of the Alameda site. Secretary E. C. Spauls of the Alameda Chamber of Commerce, its naval base committee, consisting of John H. Wilkins, J. S. McDowell and E. J. Silver, and City Manager C. E. Haddock have been invited to attend.

At this meeting it is expected that selections will be made of those who shall appear before the congressional committee tomorrow and arrangements will also be made for the entertainment of the committee.

ALAMEDA TO ENTERTAIN.
It is the plan now to have Alameda entertain the senators and representatives at luncheon following the inspection of the site on the first day of their visit to the mainland.

Under the auspices of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, it is probable a dinner will be given that night and a luncheon for the membership on the following day.

COMMISSIONERS OF THE HOUSE
Chairman of the house committee on naval affairs, E. C. Spauls, managing director of the Oakland chamber, that the naval affairs committee was so delighted with the dinner given them in the spring of 1919 that he suggested it be repeated for the present commission.

Navy Base Site Committee Starts For West Tonight

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The joint congressional naval committee of the Senate and House and officers of the navy department will leave Washington tonight for the Pacific Coast to investigate navy yard sites and projected naval developments in the west. The committee was authorized during the last Congress and was instructed to report when Congress convenes December 2.

Senator Ball, Republican, Delaware, is chairman of the committee.

PHELAN WILL FIGHT JAPANESE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Senator John H. Phelan today issued a statement saying he would issue the time between now and March 4 in pushing forward his fight against Japanese encroachment.

Although the alien land law was carried by a large majority, Senator Phelan said he saw in the vote against the amendment the result of an active campaign of propaganda by the Japanese and would press his charge of pernicious political activity against the Japanese Consul at Los Angeles.

Referring to his defeat, the Senator said he was caught in the landslide and had been "elected to live in California."

Senator Phelan's statement follows:

On the present incomplete tabulation it is estimated that Senator Harding has won California by a majority of 350,000 votes. There is no precedent for such a victory at the polls. It is no easy task to resist a landslide of such magnitude. I won the city, however, by about 15,000, but lost the State, all told, I believe, by about 40,000. In other words, the slide did me no damage until more than 300,000 votes had passed by. I have been elected to live in California, and I therefore have no heart burnings, but my obligations to the people and press can never be fully repaid.

Indeed, I enjoy feeling the sense of obligation, because it lies me most closely to my friends.

The campaign in California was replete with interest. The silent penetration of our State by Japanese has been exposed. Their plot to colonize California has been defeated.

COUNTRESS TAKES STAND TO DISPUTE HUSBAND'S CLAIM

De Charon Suit Over Title to Apartment Houses Aired in Court

Countess Etta H. De Charon, otherwise known as Mrs. Etta Wright, took the witness stand before Superior Judge Joseph Koford to defend herself against the $105,000 property suit that her husband, Count Frederick De Charon, alias F. A. Wright, has brought against her to obtain valuable Oakland apartment houses and business property.

Prior to this the deposition of G. C. Brown of Portland, a partner of De Charon in the mining business, was introduced by the prosecution. Brown said that De Charon had told him that Mrs. De Charon had invested $5000 in one of his mining projects and that he had to pay her back. Brown also told of other instances where De Charon had indicated that although his wife supplied him with money, that he intended to and did pay her back out of his profits.

De Charon maintains that the property which is now in his wife's name was purchased with money which he made in mining operations. He says he placed this property in his wife's name, but that she later decided it back, but secreted the deed. The Countess admits she made a deed, but it was only to be filed in case of her death.

16 Divorces Are Asked in Day in Oakland Courts

Sixteen men and women filed suits for divorce in the Superior Court yesterday.

That her husband took her wedding and engagement ring away from her and told her to get out was the plaint of one wife, Mrs. Juanita B. Shearer, who charges Harry C. Shearer with cruelty.

Mrs. Adelaide L. Bard asks $75 a month alimony and a divorce from Gerald C. Bard, charging that he failed to provide for her; that he associated with other women and that he told her he did not love her.

Mrs. Emma V. Collier in her suit for divorce from Louis Collier charges that her husband threatened to "show her up" unless she let him have a divorce.

Andria Tomick asks a divorce from Minnie Tomick, alleging that she was too familiar with other men in public places.

properly which is now in his wife's name was purchased with money which he made in mining operations. He says he placed this property in his wife's name, but that she later decided it back, but secreted the deed. The Countess admits she made a deed, but it was only to be filed in case of her death.

ATTACK ON GIRL IS REPORTED AT DE FREMERY PARK

Unidentified Colored Man Is Said to Have Tried to Drag
Child Into Bushes

Declaring that she had been the victim of an attempted assault by an unidentified colored man at De Fremery park, a hysterical 14-year-old girl and her mother, neither of whom would divulge her name, today asked the police to search for the man.

According to the girl, she and her mother had spent several hours in the park. They started home, when the girl remembered that she had forgotten her tennis racket and returned for it.

As she was entering the park the man is said to have jumped from behind bushes and attempted to force her into them. Two boys shouted at the man, who dropped the girl and fled.

For Thanksgiving

An Unpaid Servant

Thanksgiving Day should be a vacation for mother, too, but it isn't if she has to do all the work. It's the best servant she can have and you don't have to pay it wages.

The first one illustrated comes in either mahogany or walnut with rubber-tired wheels and removable glass tray. Specially priced for the holidays at

Tea Wagons with Drop Sides

These wagons have a two-fold purpose. Besides being tea wagons, they have two drop leaves. When these are raised the wagon actually becomes a little luncheon table, the tray lifting off. The one illustrated comes in both walnut and mahogany and is priced at

LEADING BUSH TOWNS DUNDEE AND BROWN STAGE SENSATIONAL BOUT AT AUDITORIUM

Pat Boyle Stops Fremont in First; Joe Ketchel Puts Louis Leonard Away

By BOB SHAND
The old-time fans who could see nothing good in the four-round game lost a decision last night at the auditorium. Ever since the ten and twenty-round game was skidded out of the picture the veterans have been telling about the great fights they used to see. When Jimmy Dundee and Young Brown got through slugging last night they had to admit that there was more action in any one of the four rounds than they ever saw in any ten or twenty-round battle. The kids simply fought. What they knew about boxing they wrapped up in a bundle and tossed in the lake. Brown challenged Dundee and Dundee accepted and once they started battering each other they did not stop until nature made them stop. If promoter Simpson wants to give the customers something better than that Dundee-Brown bout he will have to import a couple of wildcats—and then he will be taking a chance of tossing a bloomer.

The battle was called a draw, a decision that satisfied the crowd, and it was one of those little white matter affairs where it is necessary to render a decision Brown would have received the trophy on his aggressiveness. Otherwise it was fifty-fifty. The way the fight was fought, the decisions are not absolutely necessary in the four-round game as a decision is not necessary in a ten or twenty-round game. The fight was a slugfest. Dundee and Brown were both in the ring, taking some light blows to the white teeth, but when suddenly Dundee stopped backing away, he stopped and in his tracks and murmured "Brown, come on" and the battle was on at the same time. Both started swinging simultaneously and with both hands flying like windmills. Dundee was the one who let go with everything they had. Luckey stopped more valiantly than in this fight than he ever stopped before but they failed to stop him.

The Results and How the Judges Gave Decisions

Here are the results of last night's battles and how the judges decided:
DUNDEE AND BROWN, Draw. (Decision unanimous).
PELSENGER AND MALONE, Draw. (Bracket, draw; Joseph, Pelsenger).
KETCHEL STOPPED LEONARD IN SECOND ROUND.
VIERRA AND CELLO, Draw. (Bracket, Cello; Joseph, Vierra).
BOYLE STOPPED FREMONT IN FIRST ROUND.
FINNEY DEFEATED BORRELL. (Decision unanimous).
BROWN DEFEATED MACEY. (Bracket, draw; Joseph, Macey).

SERIES OF RALLIES
Several other rallies followed in the later rounds, the second round particularly being one long slugging. Brown's strength stood him in good stead as he hit Dundee to Dundee to the ropes. But the only time "Luckey" stopped slugging was when his back was against the hemp. The fight was a slugfest. Dundee and Brown were both in the ring, taking some light blows to the white teeth, but when suddenly Dundee stopped backing away, he stopped and in his tracks and murmured "Brown, come on" and the battle was on at the same time. Both started swinging simultaneously and with both hands flying like windmills. Dundee was the one who let go with everything they had. Luckey stopped more valiantly than in this fight than he ever stopped before but they failed to stop him.

The new field, when Frank Book's rugby fifteen took Fremont High school's measure, 3 to 0. The game was a full of light and lumbies, which accounts for the small score run up. Wing Forward Baker, at the end of the field, put up a ruck and short passing run. The try was not converted.

CALIFORNIA EXPECTS HARDEST GAME THIS SEASON AGAINST W. S.

Victories for California and Stanford Saturday Will Make "Big Game" Important

By DOUG MONTELE
UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Nov. 4.—The hardest fought football game of the present football season on the Pacific Coast is scheduled for next Saturday afternoon on California Field when the California Varsity entertains the Cougars of Washington State College in the game which will practically settle the championship. To date both teams are undefeated in their two respective sections of the conference, and each has but one other conference game ahead of them after Saturday. Football fans in this part of the country who have seen the California Varsity roll up huge scores each Saturday against weaker opponents will have their dreams sadly shattered if they think that Saturday's contest is to be a repetition of that which has gone before.

California has more than one chance of winning the championship game against the Cougars. The Cougars are the only team in the conference who have not lost a game. California has won all its games. The game is expected to be a slugfest.

By MAURY PESSANO
Roy Aven of the California Cotton Millers is doing good work around the first sack. Rod is not only getting in fine style but is hitting the pill at a fast clip. Last Sunday against Small and Dolan he got two hits, a home run and a walk. Both of his hits helped the Millers to a victory.

TRIBUNE BUILDING TO BE SCENE OF SECOND MEETING OF NEW LEAGUE

Player Age Limit in Class 'C' Division of the Tribune League Pleases the Youngsters

By EDDIE MURPHY
The second meeting of the California State League which is planned to be the farm for the Pacific Coast League clubs next season, will take place tomorrow night at the OAKLAND TRIBUNE building at 8 o'clock. The first meeting was held in San Francisco a couple of weeks ago, and from the enthusiasm shown at that time, the league promises to be one of the biggest successes ever launched here. With the possible exception of a San Francisco team in the league, it will practically be an Eastbay organization, as Fred L. Krumb, president of the OAKLAND TRIBUNE Midwinter League, is an Alameda man and was chosen as head of the State League. Bill Wagner of the C. L. Best Tractors of San Leandro is the secretary. If Oakland and San Francisco teams are entered in the league, it will be necessary to secure but one other club to complete the circuit. That club will take the place made vacant by the withdrawal of the Stockton Sperrys.

OAKLAND SCHOOL DEPARTMENT IS CUT BY BOARD

Slashes Made to Provide for Rise in Teachers' Salaries Drastic and Thorough

One of the most drastic operations in the history of the school department, involving the cutting down of expenses of all sorts, was performed last night by the Committee of the Whole of the Board of Education.

The report, a result of long argument and heated discussions, will be presented in its final form for ratification by the Board of Education Monday. The cuts were made necessary to provide the funds for the teachers' increases of salary.

CUT FROM TOP DOWN

The entire scope of the Oakland school work has shrunk, from top to bottom. At the top it was decided to cut an assistant accountant, junior bookkeeper and two junior clerks from the payroll saving $5,420 per year. Principal clerks were reduced to half time, and some higher clerks will be replaced by cheaper employees.

Other parings of expense include: Supervisors to half time in industrial arts, children's health center, home economics, boys' vocational work, and department of research and guidance.

Positions in the supervisory class, now vacant, will not be filled. Elimination of ten listed positions, such as agriculture, economics, and relief teachers, was decided on.

Playground supervision will be carried on as overtime.

EVENING BUDGET FIXED

Twenty-three evening school classes will be eliminated. The budget for evening schools will be fixed at $50,000, with $30,000 for Americanization work, saving $15,000 from the regular budget.

The executives recommend that all overtime classes be abolished, including music and language classes, except speech defects classes already authorized.

The part time budget will be fixed at $32,000, eliminating $31,000 in expense.

Junior high and high school classes will be made larger wherever possible, so there will be a smaller number of classes.

The business department is asked to eliminate all repairs and alterations in high school buildings except those that are absolutely imperative for the continuance of school.

The committee last night also decided that no classroom or janitor's supplies will be purchased during the coming semester other than absolutely needed.

In the matter of sick benefits for teachers the executives recommended that a letter be sent to the Oakland Teachers' association, asking that they take the matter under consideration and make a recommendation.

In making its recommendations, the committee began with a preamble stating that the ultimate goal of its program is to reach all classes of children and provide them with thorough training for citizenship. From this viewpoint, it was said that "it is the duty of the board of education to consider first the primary objectives of the public schools in presenting the cuts, the committee made its formal statement as follows:

Dolls of Every Kind, Station, Quality Will Be Seen in Picturesque Pageant

SOCIETY AWAITS BIG EVENT

UNIQUE FEATURES PLANNED

The Doll Show of the West Oakland Home, now a traditional affair, is ready for its staging at the Hotel Oakland.

On the morning of the 17th, dolls of every size, nationality, station and quality will assemble in the ballroom for the observation of the judges yet to be selected.

And from that moment until the night of the 19th, the little people will hold the boards. It is said that before there were so many beautiful dolls, and most of them, incidentally, are of American manufacture. In the last three shows Japan furnished almost the entire population of dolldom, and they didn't quite fit into American ideals of beauty.

The ballroom, in the new arrangement, will be clear of exhibition tables, to permit a performance each afternoon of the "Dolls of Yesterday," under the direction of Miss Grace Trevor in costume. And augmenting the performance a series of living pictures of dolls will be presented at four each day.

The three-day bazaar will terminate in a ball, of which Mrs. Emil Fritsch is chairman, with Mrs. Frank Roller directing the music. Assisting in the sale of flowers and refreshments will be the members of the Peter Pan club who will be on hand in its full membership, assisted by the Little Workers and the Junior Club, the two sub-organizations of the West Oakland Home.

The proceeds from the Doll Show are depended upon to carry the home down on Campbell street through the year, with what meager assistance is allowed by the state—sixty boys and girls to be fed and clothed and schooled—something of a contract in this day and year.

Mrs. William Amann is the guiding spirit of the home this year, with Mrs. Walter D. Reed in charge of the Doll Show, which is eagerly anticipated by the Christmas shoppers of both side of the bay.

FOUR ARRESTED AS BOOTLEGGERS

With the arrest of Michael Marcelli, against whose alleged wholesale distillery federal officers conducted a spectacular raid, confiscating many hundreds of gallons of liquor, a second alleged bootlegger, known to the police as Sami Stanislav, was taken into custody in Oakland last night.

Stanislav, who claims he is a native of Montenegro, is said to be one of a quartet of whom George Ziez and Frank Pavlovich are the remaining members, who are alleged to have supplied cafes of this city and San Francisco with contraband liquor.

The three were taken into custody after five government operatives had visited the Gilroy ranch, where four huge stills. The man was arrested and quizzed by the officers, but it was not until long after he had been placed in jail that he consented to reveal the whereabouts of the stills. These, together with 400 gallons of wine and brandy were then taken into custody.

The raid was consummated after the prohibition officers, disguised as bootleggers, with an empty truck as a blind, visited the ranch and contracted to purchase 200 gallons of grappa at $17 a gallon.

If you see it in THE TRIBUNE tell them so.

KANZAKI STYLED INSOLENT BY DR. KUNO IN REPLY

Statements of University Authority Declared Basis for Estimate on Japanese

Further answer to the statements of M. Kanzaki, secretary of the Japanese Association, who replied to the original articles by the doctor appearing in THE TRIBUNE, are contained in a concluding installment of the writings of Dr. Yoshi S. Kuno of the University of California, printed today in the Daily Californian.

Kanzaki's statements were printed by THE TRIBUNE after the first of the Kuno articles, and purported to present the Japanese side of the controversy.

BASIS FOR ESTIMATE.

Professor Kuno says that all his statements regarding the Japanese Association and its officers, questioned by Kanzaki, were taken from the association's literature. He declares the census and statements of university authority, given in his writing, were the basis for his estimate of 100,000 Japanese in California.

Regarding Kanzaki's statements as to the petition to President Wheeler of the University in behalf of Kuno when it was asked that he be dismissed, the writer says Kanzaki is making allegations where he is not informed and that the copies on file at the university as original and not re-written.

STIRS KUNO TO ANGER.

Kanzaki's statement that the petition in behalf of Kuno was signed out of pity for him arouses Kuno's anger.

"I voice strenuous objection to Mr. Kanzaki's insolent and possible that a man of the type of scholarly attainment and mental ability of Mr. Kanzaki, who, while an undergraduate had been subjected to repeated 'third grade' or 'passed' and later attended the university on two different occasions in an unsuccessful struggle for a master's degree, may not be able to distinguish between pity and principle. However, in my opinion, the Japanese students both of the past and present, who have won respect at the university, are men of the caliber whose signatures carry some weight."

In conclusion, Mr. Kanzaki says that he has made a sworn statement before the Committee of Immigration and Naturalization that the Japanese government had no political connection with the association. A man so addicted to romancing as Mr. Kanzaki is capable of making any sort of sworn statement. However, time brings up the matter.

Tennis Courts to Be Reserved For Adults' Holidays

The tennis courts at Lakeside Park will be reserved for adults exclusively hereafter on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, according to the order of the park board yesterday. ## NATIVE SONS TO HELP CHILDREN

"Men and women come from as far as Portland, Ore., to adopt California children, and we want the men and women of Alameda county to go as far as the auditorium, a week from Saturday evening, to help the children that the outsiders are so willing to adopt," declared City Auditor Harry C. Williams last evening in addressing a group meeting of the parlor of the Native Sons and Native Daughters of Alameda county in the interests of the Homeless Children Fund.

The Native Sons and Daughters Committee are handling 75 per cent of the cases of homeless children in the state. The organization is working upon the theory that as far as possible homeless children should be placed in institutions but with private families with adoption as the desired end.

To finance this work the Alameda county Native Sons and Daughters are working upon a big entertainment and dance to be given at the municipal auditorium on Saturday evening, November 13.

"We find that families will travel from other states for the sole purpose of adopting one of our homeless children," explained Williams. "With such an interest in our work and with the record of Alameda county behind us we feel that we should be able to break all attendance records with our entertainment. Aside from an evening of surprises and pleasure all those who attend will have the consciousness of having materially helped in one of the most worthy causes now before the public."

During the year approximately 430,000 immigrants were admitted to residence in the United States, officials declare. Of these 41,600 selected the western coast, 32,502 of this number coming directly to California. More than 3600 alone entered San Francisco.
